Wreath laying ceremony at the "Punch Bowl",
The National Memorial Cemetery in Hawaii

: THREE HUNDRED AND FORTY-FOURTH ANNUAL RECORD :

344th Fall Field Day Tour of Duty

Honolulu, Hawaii and San Francisco

The 344th Fall Field Day Tour of Duty
Overview
1 October 1989

The 344th Fall Field Day Tour of Duty was an outstanding success. United Airlines Flight #91 left Logan Airport on 1 October to Honolulu via Los Angeles. We arrived at the beautiful Hyatt Regency on Waikiki Beach only 20 minutes late - 6,000 miles. Upon arrival at the airport, each member was given a lei; a briefing was held concerning our stay in Hawaii, followed by a Tour of the City. That evening, a Party was tendered by the Sergeants - from all reports, a huge success and they are to be commended for their efforts expended on behalf of their comrades.

SATURDAY- was left for local interest, swimming, surfing and general rehabilitation. Many men took individual tours of Pearl Harbor, city, beaches, etc. SUNDAY - we paraded to St. Andrews Cathedral for a Wreath-Laying Ceremony followed by church services and reception. MONDAY - a memorable day with parade and services at the Punch Bowl - a National Memorial Cemetery. We were assisted by an Army Band, a Marine Firing Squad and other military personnel. That evening the FFDTD Banquet was held at the Cannon Club on the side of Diamond Head - a beautiful setting and many dignitaries were present including: LTC Sennerwal, LTG Forrester, LTG Cantalay, Belgian. TUESDAY - R & R.

WEDNESDAY - Probably the highlight of the trip with mixed emotions. A briefing at CINC PAC Headquarters and a visit to the Arizona Memorial Building for a short film and a short boat ride to the memorial over the Arizona in Pearl Harbor for a Wreath Laying Service - very impressive and very moving!

THURSDAY - we left for San Francisco - arrived late in the day. FRIDAY - Sightseeing, Tour of the City, various meetings and another Sergeants' Party by these outstanding men who contributed so to the well-being of us all. SATURDAY - individual tours and preparation for return to home station. SUNDAY - return to Boston. Farewell Remarks.

5 October 1981
Speech Delivered by Captain Herbert Tonry

Forty years ago on a day we hold in awe and reverence, a horrifying price was paid by a nation whose desire for peace is sometimes stronger than its prudence.

We find ourselves standing here - humble - before those who were sacrificed, and we ask "what can we do to redeem tha sacrifice."

We are not a bellicose people; yet, if one lesson is to be learned from history, it is that a wishful, ingenuous and simplistic idealism, however sincere, does not bring peace, nor does it bring security.

We were attacked because we had neglected our defenses, and because our resolution and determination had been made to seem not credible.

The situation today is complicated and confusing. Exotic new, deadly weaponry - very costly - and aggressive, hostile strategies of subversion and agitation; and shiftings on the regional and international balances of power pose profound dilemmas for our strategic thinkers, political and military. And they have differences of opinion, as well they should.

Though it is an important question, it is not so much how should our armed forces be deployed, for our soldiers, sailors and airmen are only part of ther equation. It is more a matter of how should our total human and material resources be deployed - resources, by definition, that are finite.

A humane government will be, and should be, properly concerned about the social welfare of its people; but this sadly becomes academic if that government or its independence be destroyed.

It had been said: "if the democratic nations fail, their failure must be partly attributed to the faulty strategy of idealists who have too many illusions, when they face realists who have too little conscience."

I submit, moved by the presence of these heroes who have gone before, that it is our responsibility to ourselves and to our nation to dedicate ourselves to a wise, humane and courageous resolution of this dilemma, so that, in the words of Lincoln, "These honored dead shall not have died in vain."

THE 344TH FALL FIELD DAY TOUR OF DUTY BANQUET OF THE ANCIENT AND HONORABLE ARTILLERY COMPANY OF MASSACHUSETTS

CANNON CLUB
HONOLULU, HAWAII
5 October 1981

CDR Herbert Tonry:
I'd like to welcome all of you tonight to the 344th Fall Field Day Tour of Duty Banquet of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company. Before I ask for the invocation, I should like to call upon the Adjutant to give the first regular toast.

COL William Tregoning:
Please rise for the first regular toast.

The United States of America

Audience:
Hear! Hear!

COL William Tregoning:
Our homeland, freedom, through determination committed to defend itself and others against all aggressors.

Audience:
Hear! Hear!

CDR Herbert Tonry:
I should now like to call upon our Chaplain, Brigadier General Frank Bauer, who gave such an eloquent sermon at St. Andrews Cathedral yesterday, to give the invocation. Please give your attention to our Chaplain.

BG Frank Bauer:

Our God, Heavenly Father, to whom a day is as a thousand years and a thousand years as a day, on this tour of duty we commemorate our Nation. We mean not to fight old battles, nor to renew former hostilities, but rather to remember thy throne of grace, all those who laid on the altar of freedom, their full measure of devotion and also to beseech thee to keep us a nation, brave in war, charitable in victory, and determined to keep the peace. Bless now this food to our use and us to thy Service and keep us ever mindful. In the name of the Father and the Son and the Holy Ghost. Amen.

CDR Herbert Tonry:

Please be seated, Gentlemen. I should now like to introduce to you the guests at the head table: On my far right, our Chaplain, who has just given the invocation, Brigadier General Frank Bauer. (Applause) Next to him, on my right, the Marine Commandant of the Fleet Marine Force, Major General Calhoun Killeen. (Applause) My Second Lieutenant, your Second Lieutenant, Joseph S. Loughman. (Applause) Representative of Her Honor, the Mayor of the City and County of Honolulu, Colonel Francis Santos. (Applause) The First Lieutenant and the man who was responsible for putting all this together, Lieutenant Colonel Frederick A. York III.(Applause) Representative not only of our good friend, the Adjutant General of the State of Hawaii, but also of Governor Ariyoshi of the State of Hawaii, Colonel Daniel Au. (Applause) On my far left, Gentlemen, is our good Adjutant, Colonel William L. Tregoning. (Applause) Next to him, our host the other day to a number of us who had a fantastic trip, Captain Jack Ready, United States Navy. (Applause) Senior past commander of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, the man who took us on a spectacular trip to Amsterdam and Budapest, Brigadier General Ernest Clair. (Applause) An officer who came into this place the same day we did for a new change of command, the new Commander of WESTCOM, which is an acronym standing for United States Western Army Command, Lieutenant General Eugene P. Forrester. (Applause) The representative to the Commander In Chief of the Pacific, Admiral Long, his Chief of Staff, Lieutenant General Robert W. Sennewald. (Applause) Forgive me, I missed my Chief of Staff, Brigadier General James A. Lynch. (Applause) Now, Gentlemen, I would say it's time for us to turn to, and we'll eat a bit before we go on for the next toast.

CDR Herbert Tonry:

Can I get your attention for a moment before calling on the Adjutant for the second regular toast. I would like to introduce to you a couple of guests of our company who are seated down on the floor. The first one is a friend of ours who was a head-table guest at a banquet when General Lynch was the Captain Commanding when we were in Brussels, Former Deputy Chairman of the Military Support Committee of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, now retired and living in Honolulu, I should like to introduce to you Lieutenant General George W. Cantley, retired. (Applause) The man who did about as much as anybody could do to help make this trip here a success, the Public Relations Officer for Civilian Affairs of the commander in Chief of the Pacific, Mr. Earl Greathouse. (Applause) His help has been indescribable. At the parade today at the National Cemetery of the Pacific, Punchbowl, the man who is the Officer in Charge who made every effort to help us and came through very, very well for us, Mr. Claude Arnold. (Applause) One small announcement. The day before we left, last Wednesday, I went over to the hospital to see General Brock. He evidently had a very serious problem, but he looked great and he felt great. He said that he was very sorry and very sad that he was on the sick list and sent his best wishes, his love and affection to all of his comrades and said that if it were at all possible, he would have liked to have been with us. Now, Gentlemen, I would like to call upon the Adjutant to give the second regular toast. Gentlemen, please rise. Colonel, I think it would be better perhaps, because of the acoustics, if you would come to the podium.

COL William Tregoning:

Would you raise your glasses with me on the second regular toast.

THE STATEOF HAWAII

Pearl of the Pacific, paradise for visitors all over the world, Aloha State, our wonderful host.

Audience:

Hear! Hear!

CDR Herbert Tonry:

I thank you, Colonel. And now, to respond to the toast to the State of Hawaii, I should like to call upon the representative of Governor Ariyoshi, Colonel Daniel Au.

COL Daniel Au:

Thank you, Commander. Gentlemen, thank you for having me here tonight. Unfortunately, the Governor of the Statee of Hawaii couldn't be here. However, I do have his message and it reads: Dear Captain Tonry, I am pleased to extend my aloha and best wishes to the members of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts on the occasion of your 344th annual Fall Field Day Tour of Duty. It is indeed our pleasure to be the host State to such a distinguished and outstanding organization. As the first military company chartered in the western hemisphere, your organization has played major roles in the development of Massachusetts and our United States. Very, very few organizations can match the achievements of your members, five of whom earned the Congressional Medal of Honor and four who became President of the United States. I regret that I cannot be with you on this occasion because of my longstanding commitment to be out of the state. Nevertheless, I extend my best wishes to the members of your organization for an enjoyable and memorable stay in our islands. With warm personal regards, I remain very truly yours, George R. Ariyoski, Governor, State of Hawaii. Aloha.

Audience:

Aloha.

CDR Herbert Tonry:

Thank you very much, Colonel Au. I have a present which it would please me very greatly if you could bring to Governor Ariyoshi. I'd like to ask my aide to come forward. I would like to present this, first of all, on behalf of our Governor, Edward King, who also is Commander in Chief of this Company, a Massachusetts flag to be presented to the Governor of Hawaii. (The Flag of Massachusetts was presented to Colonel Au.)

COL Daniel Au:

Thank you, Gentlemen.

CDR Herbert Tonry:

And now it gives me great pleasure to present to Governor Ariyoshi from the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, a replica of the Paul Revere bowl. (The bowl was presented to Colonel Au.) I would like to read one more letter before borrowing the Adjutant for the third regular toast. I have a letter here from United States Senate, via telecopier, to Captain Herbert Tonry, care of Cannon Club, Honolulu, Hawaii.

The message is from U.S. Senator Spark Matsunaga: I extend my warnest aloha and best wishes to the 344th Fall Field Day Tour of Duty of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts. Annual commemorations should serve not only to bring old friends together the achievements of universal goals so that future sacrifices of life and blood may not be necessary. Please be assured that my thoughts are with you for a most meaningful and memorable anniversary. Aloha. Sincerely, Spark Matsunaga, Unitd States Senator. Now, Gentlement, I would like to call upon the Adjutant for the third regular toast.

COL William Tregoning:

Gentlemen, would you please stand and raise your glasses for the third regular toast.

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

New England, our home, Cradle of Liberty, our dear State, Massachusetts.

Audience:

Hear! Hear!

CDR Herbert Tonry:

Before calling for a response to the toast to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, I should like to read a letter from Governor King. It says: Dear Captain Tonry, it is with regret that I must decline your kind invitation to accompany the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts on their 344th Fall Field Day Tour of Duty. The affairs of the Commonwealth do not permit my absence during this period of time. I'm not surprised. I have asked Brigadier General James A. Lynch, Jr. to represent me in any matters that you feel necessary. I extend my best wishes to you and to all my comrades in the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company for a successful and eventful trip. Sincerely, Edward J. King, Governor. I should like to call upon General Lynch to respond to the toast. General Lynch is the Special Advisor to the Governor and also the Assistant Adjutant General of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and also my Chief of Staff.

BG James Lynch:

Captain Commanding, distinguished general officers and guests, my comrades in the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, it is indeed a privilege and pleasure for me to respond to this toast for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. You all know Governor King. He's a great supporter of the Ancients. If he was here this evening he would say that the Company's enthusiasm is the most important thing anyone can have. And the Company is certainly loaded with enthusiasm. Each and every one of us participate in these programs from year to year, going to these countries, and the Governor understands this. We all know how he supports us and how we support him. And he wanted me to say that he wanted to be here. He wants me to convey to the Governor of Hawaii his best wishes. He's a man that has a feeling for tradition, a feeling for the reenactment of the old standards for which this country of ours was founded. And when he sees the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company following its traditions, lest all traditions fail, he gets in the program very heavily, as you all know. And I feel inadequate in responding on behalf of all the citizens, because I feel if he was here with us it would be a far different thing. But I do wich to express to the Captain Commanding, on behalf of the Governor, his best wishes, and also to my comrades, that he really has a true feeling for us all and he was so happy that we chose Hawaii, to stay within the continental limits of the United States.

Thank you very much. (Applause)

CDR Herbert Tonry:

Thank you very much. And now, Gentlemen, I invite you to return to your dinner.

CDR Herbert Tonry:

Gentlemen, I'd like to ask you to give your attention to the Adjutant for the fourth regular toast.

COL William Tregoning:

Gentlemen, would you please rise.

THE CITY OF HONOLULU

Crossroads of the Pacific, gateway to the Hawaiian Island, headquarters for the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts for its 344th Fall Field Day Tour of Duty.

Audience:

Hear! Hear!

CDR Herbert Tonry:

Thank you very much, Colonel. To respond to the toast to the City and County of Honolulu, the host that has been so gracious to us and has provided such a lovely spot for our gathering, I should like to call upon Colonel Francis Santos, Representative of the Mayor, Eileen Anderson. (Applause)

COL Francis Santos:

Thank you. On behalf of the Mayor, I would like to respond to this most eloquent toast. I must say that the Mayor sends her regrets that she had a prior commitment and is unable to attend. But myself, personally, I thank you that I am here to share this evening with you. I do have a message from the Mayor of the City and County of Honolulu: As Mayor, I would like to take this opportunity to extend a warm aloha to the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts. I understand you have gathered in Hawaii to conduct your 344th Fall Field Day Tour of Duty and to commemorate the 40th anniversary of Pearl Harbor. Few chartered military organizations share your long and colorful history, which began seventeen years after our country's forefathers landed at Plymouth Rock. Your organization has a rich heritage kept alive by the revitalization of old traditions that give great meaning and purpose to your group. Some of America/s most distinguished men have been among your prestigious rank and their achievements are a tribute to the leadership and high caliber of your membership. On behalf of the people of the City and County of Honolulu, I extend best wishes for a pleasant and most enjoyable tour of duty. I am confident your stay in Honolulu will reward you with fond memories of our island home. Eileen Anderson, Mayor, City and County of Honolulu. Mahalo. (Applause)

CDR Herbert Tonry:

Mahalo, for all of you Yankees who may not be aware, means thank you. And I thank you, Colonel Santos. When I had talked to Colonel Santos first, I asked him if he had been in Massachusetts ever. He said, "Yes, for ten minutes." He was on his way from a vacation on Lake Winnipesaukee, flew to Logan Airport, and made a transfer, presumably, back to Hawaii. So I hope that one day he will come to Massachusetts and I have invited him to come to the Armory and take part in some of our hospitality and some of our lobster. And now I would like to make a presentation of a gift from the City of Boston to the City of Honolulu, a flag of the City of Boston, whick I should like to present to Colonel Santos. (The flag of the City of Boston was presented to Colonel Santos.)

COL Francis Santos:

On behalf of the Mayor of the City and County of Honolulu, I accept the gift. We'll take it and place it in ourCity Archives. Thank you very much.

CDR Herbert Tonry:

Please stand by. I have one more gift that I would like you to give to the Mayor. This again, is a replica of the Paul Revere bowl which is so very well known in Massachusetts. (The Paul Revere bowl was presented to Colonel Santos.)

COL Francis Santos:

Again, on behalf of the people of the City and County of Honolulu, I thank you very much. Thank you. Mahalo. Our cup runneth over. (Laughter)

CDR HerbertTonry:

Now, Gentlemen, of our twenty living Past Commanders, we have present here tonight six. I would like to read their names and I would like it if they would all stand. The Past Commanders are men who perpetuate the knowledge which is always of great help to the new Captain. It was only a couple of weeks ago when there was a meeting of the Society of Past Commanders, and I was asked to speak to them and I told them with the greatest sincerity that I could command, that their warm hospitality and their assistance and their enthusiasm was a great thing for me in helping me to perform the tasks of Captain Commanding. I should like to ask the following to stand:

Brigadier General James E. Clair. (Applause)
Brigadier General James A. Lamphier (Applause)
Major Robert L. Marr (Applause)
Colonel Ernest J. Montilio (Applause)
Brigadier General John F. Cremens (Applause)
Brigadier General James A. Lynch (Applause)

Let's give them all a great big hand, Gentlemen. (Applause) And now, Gentlemen, I would suggest you proceed with your dinner.

CDR Herbert Tonry:

Gentlemen, your attention, please to the Adjutant for the fifth regular toast.

COL William Tregoning:

THE CITY OF BOSTON

Birthplace of the American Revolution, our mother city and home of our Armory. The CITY OF BOSTON.

Audience:

Hear! Hear!

CDR Herbert Tonry:

Please be seated, Gentlemen. To respond to the toast to the City of Boston, it gives me great pleasure to call upon a man who has been a great help to me, who is also responsible in great part for preparing this affair tonight. My Second Lieutenant, Representative Joseph S. Loughman.

LT Joseph Loughman:

Gentlemen, it is my pleasure to respond to the toast to the City of Boston and, in so doing, I would like to read a letter from His Honor, the Mayor of our City, Kevin White: Dear Mayor Anderson and distinguished guests, as Mayor of the City of Boston, I am proud to express warm greetings from the citizens of Boston to the people of the beautiful City of Honolulu. It is a great privilege to be afforded this opportunity to address you on this occasion and to join with the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts in recognition of the events and historical traditions which have brought us together. With all best regards, Sincerely, Kevin H. White, Mayor of the City of Boston. Thank you, one and all. (Applause)

CDR Herbert Tonry:

Thank you very much Lieutenant Loughman. I would like to ask the Adjutant to give the sixth regular toast.

COL William Tregoning:

Gentlemen, please rise for the sixth regular toast.

THE ARMED FORCES OF
THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

Pride, dedication, sacrifice, the Army, the Navy, the Air Force, the Marines, the Coast Guard, defenders of our liberty. To the ARMED FORCES.

Audience:

Hear! Hear!

CDR Herbert Tonry:

To respond to the toast to the Armed Forces, it is a great pleasure for me to call upon General Sennewald to give you a few words, as representative of the Commander in Chief Pacific.

LTG Robert Sennewald:

Commander, Gentlemen, on behalf of Admiral Long, and if I could mention approximately three hundred and sixty thousand members of the Armed Forces here in the Pacific, I bring you greetings. I spoke today with Admiral Long. I mentioned that I was coming this evening and he wanted me specifically to indicate to all of you his best wishes and a regret that he could not be here this evening. I'm particularly touched, and I'm sure I'm speaking for the rest of the active military in the Hawaiian Islands this evening, of the fact that you have taken a moment to toast the Armed Forces. The bulk of you have served in the military, and what's most important is that you're continuing to serve now. You're providing the interest and the concern for our country in the national defense matters. We're looking forward to Wednesday to talking about the Pacific Command to you all. I think it's important that you're here at this point in history, at this point in time, because we like to believe that this is going to be the decade of the Pacific. We think that the United States' interest here is continuing to mount and grow and I would like to convey to you when we meet here on Wednesday the fact that we have and important part to play and that the United States is continually looking to the Pacific. Again, best wishes on your wonderful period here in Hawaii. And, again, from Admiral Long, the best and mahalo.
(Applause)

CDR Herbert Tonry:

Thank you very much, General. I want you to know we're very much with you; very much with our Forces. We are very much impressed by the reception that we have received here and the relationship that we see between the Forces and the civilians and very much touched by that ceremony this morning at the Punchbowl. I would like at this time to present to you, sir, a Paul Revere bowl, which I hope you can have grace that lovely house you were telling me about here in Hawaii. (The Paul Revere bowl was presented to LTG Sennewald.)

LTG Robert Sennewald:

Thank you very much. I appreciate that very much, but since I'm only representing Admiral Long, I hink it's only appropriate that I give him first shot at the bowl. (Laughter)

CDR Herbert Tonry:

I would now like to ask General Forrester if he would come forward because I have a bowl for him as well. Genral Forrester is the Army Commander of the Western Pacific. Perhaps he would explain what it is, because I'm very interested in this acronyms. It is the full Army that is in the entire Pacific. Correct me if I'm wrong, General.

LTG Eugene Forrester:

You're right. I only want to say that a long last the Army is recognized in its responsibilities in this part of the world. We have many responsibilities in NATO and throughout the world, but we have exceptional responsibilities here. When you recognize that last year America's trade in Japan, in Korea and in Taiwan exceeded that in all of Europe, you can only recognize that as a trading nation, we must face our responsibilities in this part of the world. And I'm delighted to be here with you tonight. Having visited with you in 1970 in Boston on one of the most delightful evenings I have ever spent, I was looking forward to being with you tonight and it's just been super. Thank you very much for your courtesy. (Applause)

CDR Herbert Tonry:

General, since you just came aboard the very same day we did, I would like to wish you a very successful tour of duty in this new assignment. We have, as you know, a Marine General here. The Governor decided after I had spoken to him because he has a great fondness for the Marines, that he wanted to make a special presentation to General Kileen. It hardly seems appropriate for a Naval officer to do this, so I have asked my aide, who is an ex-Marine, if he would kindly make the presentation. A Marine, rather. There is no such thing, I am told as a former Marine. I am told that there are only two types of people: Those who are Marines and those who wish they were. (Laughter) I should like to call upon Colonel Joseph to read this proclamation of this presentation from the Governor of Massachusetts to General Kileen.

COL Johnson:

Thank you. By the power of authority of the Governor, I would-like to read the following proclamation: Edward J. King, Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Whereas, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts has become known as the Cradle of Liberty through the vigilance, courage and endurance of tis patriotic citizens ever watchful of dangers to freedom, alert to warn of those perils and steadfast to oppose them, as typified by Paul Revere, one of its most honored patriots.

Whereas, it has long been the custom of the Commonwealth to recognize these traits and sterling qualities in its citizens and the citizens of its sister states; and Whereas, having demonstrated the necessary love of liberty, and alertness of its enemies, plus the readiness to defend it, and the steadfastness to maintain it, now, therefore, I do hereby proclaim Major General Calhoon Kileen, in recognition of his qualaifications and abilities, a true Paul Revere Patriot and grant him certain inalienable rights, which are:

I The right to dump tea in Boston Harbor:
II The right to graze his cows upon Boston Common:
III The right to cast down Bunker Hill (weather permitting):
IV The right to hand not more that two lanterns in the belfry arch of the Old North Church:
V The right to engage in target practice (with muzzle loading musket only) on the slopes of Bunker Hill and with the special privilege of shooting any men dressed in red coats, providing the whites of their eyes are showing:
VI The right to exceed the speed limit ( horseback only) through every village and farm in the county of Middlesex between sunset on the eighteenth day of April and sunrise on the nineteenth day of April in each year;
VII The right to wear on all State and formal occasions, the traditional tri-cornered hat, emblematic of the Order of the Paul Revere Patriots.

Witness my hand and seal of the Order of the Paul Revere Patriots at Boston, County of Suffolk, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, this 24th day of September, in the year of our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Eighty-One. Signed: Edward J. King, Governor of the Commonwealth.

GEN Calhoun Kileen:

I have been one of you for a great many, many years of my Marine Corps career and I assure you, as my compatriots have, that seventy thousand of the hundred and ten thousand Marines in the operating Forces operating in the Pacific are ready to go when CINCPAC wants us. Thank you (Applause)

CDR Herbert Tonry:

Stand by for just a moment, because now that you're a member of the Society of Paul Revere, I think it only fitting that you should have a specimen of his excellent handiwork. (General Kileen was presented a Paul Revere bowl.)

GEN Calhoun Kileen:

I'll have to wrestle my boss for this too. (Laughter)

CDR Herbert Tonry:

And now, Gentlemen, I have to explain something for the benefit of our head table guests who are not familiar with our tradition, and also it would be a good idea to explain it to some of our newer members. Every year in the springtime we have a tradition that is known as the Tripe Dinner. We don't eat tripe anymore - maybe a little in the soup - but the tripe dinner is a time when the Captain Commanding thanks the members of his staff who have been so helpful to him in making his year what it may have been. Obviously, no Captain can conceivably run this Company without a devoted and capable staff. However, I always have been of the belief that when somebody does something well, it is far better to reward him quickly than to wait too long. Because, first of all, he deserves it. And the second thing, from a selfish point of view, it may inspire him to keep on working hard. Colonel Tregoning, would you kindly come up. You all have observed the things that we have been trying to do, the meticulous planning that has gone into all of the operations in which we have been involved. I'm sure that you share with me the feeling that it would have been almost impossible to do anything like what we've been ablke to do, without the help of this man. Therefore, I'm no going to wait for the tripe dinner. I want to do something for him right now. Colonel Johnson, would you kindly unveil the gift. (Col Tregoning was presented with a sabre.) You may, if you like, brandish it, but be careful of General Lynch's ear. (Laughter) Colonel, perhaps you would like to read the inscription.

COL William Tregoning:

William L. Tregoning - I can't pick up the rest, but this was a total surprise and all I can say is that this is because of you people whom I've had the honor to work with and you've given me your support and that's why you've made me look so good. Thank you.

CDR Herbert Tonry:

Colonel, be very careful with that. It's lethal. Gentlemen, I should like to call upon the Adjutant at this time for the seventh regular toast.

COL William Tregoning:

Thank you, Captain. Please rise for the seventh regular toast.

THE ANCIENT AND HONORABLE ARTILLERY
COMPANY OF MASSACHUSETTS

the oldest chartered military organization in the Western Hemisphere, dedicated to uphold tradition. To the ANCIENT AND HONORABLE ARTILLERY COMPANY OF MASSACHUSETTS.

Audience:

Hear! Hear!

CDR Herbert Tonry:

Thank you, Colonel Tregoning. I shall respond to the toast that the Colonel made. I should like to ask you to think for a moment, Gentlemen, three hundred and forty-four years of continuous existence as a military organization. At a time when the Commonwealth was a small widely-scattered group of small villages with their own militia of untrained officers, it very quickly became evident that the Massachusetts Bay Colony could not properly defend itself in any kind of a war of any magnitude without officers who knew what standardized commands were, what standardized tactics were, and who could go home and teach them to the troops in their various militia bands. That is what started the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company as a training ground for officers to serve a unified army. This tradition continued for many years and in time it became obvious that a military academy was needed, and the Ancient And Honorable Artillery Company was instrumental as a founder of the Massachusetts Military Academy. At various times the Company has said: "What is our function?" This year my Public Information Officer has said to me, "We should know: What is our function? What do we exist for? What is it we do?" He said, "That is what people ask all the time." It's a hard question to answer, but we maintain tradition. We have a historical purpose and we're creating new purposes as we go along. The significant thing, it seems to me, is that for three hundred and forty-four years this Company has been in the forefront of Massachusetts life, Massachusetts from early times, encompassing its neighbor states as well, and today it is forging new purposes as a perpetuator of history and tradition of maintenance of the pomp and impeerium of the government. We're here today as emissaries of goodwill from the people of Massachusetts to the people of Hawaii. We have been to so many states and countries around the world. I welcome you to Hawaii and I thank you for your sttendance here at this 344th banquet. Thank you, Gentlemen. Gentlemen, I have here a very happy task, but I don't want to take credit for it because I think that Connie Ashland had a big part in it. I would like to present - and perhaps I should say, I would like to present it on behalf of Connie Ashland - to a really wonderful guy from North Quincy, this brilliant young captain who is so admired by his crew. I have to tell you a little story. I went aboard his ship and I said, rather jokingly, "Captain, are you a sundowner?" Some of you know what a sundowner is, but in the Navy a sundowner is a captain who is so devoted or so strict that while he gives his men liberty, he insists that they should all be back aboard by sundown. He said, "No, I'm a pussycat." Well, when I watched him go around his ship, there was not one young sailor that he didn't address by name; that he didn't say something to: "Charlie, did you get that leg fixed up? Joe, how's the machine working; is it still functioning?" Every one of those men looked at him as though he were God. He's Commander of a thirty-seven thousand ton fleet oiler and he's made such an impression on the men that were with me, that one of them said to me, "Thank God that we have young officers like that taking care of us in our Armed Services." I would like to present this Paul Revere bowl not only on behalf of me, but on the behalf of Connie Ashland, his school classmate, to Captain Jack Ready. (A Paul Revere bowl was presented to Captain Jack Ready.) Jack, you certainly can say a few words. I promised Jack that I would not call him for a speech, so I don't want to put him on the spot, but he would like to say a few words and I welcome that.

CPT Jack Ready:

Being from Boston and having driven a cab and all that, I'm a man of few words. But what a delight to have you all here in Hawaii, as he said. He said a lot of super words. I thank you. I hope you enjoyed yourself. We have a lot of pride and professionalism in the Navy and this is probably the epitome of my life and my career. The thing that makes it even more so is to see this group here in Hawaii and to show the patriotism and the love of country I see in your faces. I thank you very much. I'm a proud man. And it's people like you that make me that, along with my crew. Thank you very much.

CDR Herbdrt Tonry:

Gentlemen, I should now, with that, like to call a close to this 344th banquet of the Ancient And Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts. Aloha, nui loa!

344th Anniversary Ode
I Miss You, My Friend
by
Brigadier General Joseph S. Zareiko, PC

Though time has passed since you have gone,
I still recall, with you, the past.
The places seen, the people met,
And memories that fondly last.
I miss you, my friend.

It was so great when you were here.
Your pleasant smile, your thoughtful ways,
Would always fill the fleeting hours.
You brought good cheer, and made the days.
I miss you, my friend.

You enjoyed being an Ancient,
Honest and upright, proud and true.
You did your duty without restraint,
Because you were one of a few.
I miss you, my friend.

We'd join in song, and talk a lot
Of worldly things, and others, too.
We'd sip some tea to pass the time,
And always happy, as you knew.
I miss you, my friend.

I recall the parades we marched,
The beat of the drums, flags unfurled,
The cadence kept, the ranks aligned.
We were the proudest in the world.
I miss you, my friend.

Remember those meetings at the Hall,
When some said, "Yes," and others, "No."
But in the end, the vote was right
As it has been since years ago.
I miss you, my friend.

Your passing brought tears to my eyes,
A shattered heart, and broken soul.
But when the final count is made,
He, alone, knows the honest toll.
I miss you, my friend.

I know you have reached your reward,
And have said the final amen.
But since you were my special friend,
I miss you were back here, again.
I miss you, my friend,
really do.

"THE NIGHT BEFORE DINNER"
6 June 1982

The traditional "Night Before Dinner" was held on Sunday, 6 June 1982. This affair provides an opportunity for the "Incoming" and "Outgoing" Staffs not only to join together in fellowship, but also to "double" check on last minute details concerning the "June Day" Anniversary. Invitations were extended to both the new and the old staff members and also to the Past Commanders present in the hotel. The group sat down to dinner at 1830 hours. Throughout the dinner the "needles" were kept quite busy with the tales and puns being endless. A truly jocular affair!

344th Anniversary Banquet of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company
Remarks of Captain Commanding Herbert Tonry
Monday, 7 June 1982

Distinguished Head Table Guests and my Comrades:

It is my great pleasure to welcome you to the 344th Anniversary Banquet of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company.

One year ago...or rather one year and one week ago...I stood before you as the new Captain Commanding to respond to the toast to the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company.

I spoke at that time in some detail of my plans and hopes for the year to come...the year now past. I promised that the Company would be handled in a military fashion in accordance with the dictates of the Charter and the Rules & Regulations. And I spoke with great conviction and sincerity of the importance of the Total Recruitment Process, that in its functioning all new members might be of a calibre at least equal to that of the departed comrades they were to replace. And finally I said that, if I could but leave the Company at the end of my term in a little bit better condition than when I started to take over, I should be content.

It would be unseemly of me to speak of how well this may or may not have been accomplished. I shall leave it to others to judge. But to the extend that any modest successes may have been experienced, I must give full and grateful credit to my staff, elected and appointed.

Sadly, much of what I would have liked to have done was simply not possible. I make no apology. I did the best I could. But in meditating on this I have made certain observations, which I should like to share with you.

What is simultaneously the blessing and the curse of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company is that, pursuant to the historical and democratic tradition of the militia it elects its officers...and but for a limited term.

It is a curse because in a one year term, it is scarcely possible to learn the job well, to implement constructive programs and to train and inspire an effectively functioning staff; and to that extent the system is inefficient. And if efficiency were the only factor, one might advocate change.

But I submit, in its very in efficiency lies the greatness of the system. The excitement of the campaigning and the elections is what keeps the company vital, and I gravely question that this Company could have endured for 345 years, if it were not for this annual stimulation and excitement. Beside some eight life members, there are 550 regular dues-paying members, and when our elections can draw out 530 or 540 to vote, the vitality of the Company is brilliantly manifest.

A system so successful then surely needs no apology. Yet prudent men try always to encourage and improve in any system that which is good, and to curb, control or minimize that which is weak or inefficient.

So if the system has a latent inefficienty by virtue of the short term that the Commissioned Officers serve and by the frequest turnover of officers, it seems only logical then that one should attempt to find ways to enable the office of Captain Commanding to function more effectively. How then might this be done?

Quite simply: try to improve the input and encourage factors that will enhance the output.

It's your Company! If you're proud of it, and you want to stay proud of it, you must remember that the term so often bandied about "For the good of the Company"...the phrase "For the good of the Company", if it is to be understood, believed and followed, is not without its price.

The welfare, the charisma and the improvements of the Company can be at once a source of concern and of pride to you, but you must remember that you enhance them or degrade them in proportion to your participation or lack of participation. The participation of each and every member is so important in three areas: participation in the recruitment of replacement members, in the recruitment of officers, and involvement in and support of the Company activities.

As your outgoing Commander, let me speak of one of these, the recruitment of your Commissioned Officers, and by that I mean (Reference Rule #201) the Captain, the First Lieutenant and the Second Lieutenant.

Think of the recruitment of your officers as a continuous, rather long-term process, not just a vote placed on the Drumhead. Where are your future officers coming from? Who is bringing them into the Company? How did they become qualified and how do they become qualified? How are they encouraged to run? And Helped? How do they get elected? How are they trained? And finally how do they perform? And what part do YOU play in that long process?

The Captain Commanding must be the leader of the whole Company. In any vital organization there are bound to be cliques and factions and differences of point of view, and that is quite healthy an d proper. But the Commander must be above any partisan ship. He is not to divide but to unify. It is he who identifies goals that the members can embrace and loce themselves in the generous enthusiasm of cooperative effort. That's morale.

This afternoon at the Cathedral we heard a reading from I Corinthians. If you were to read on a bit in this letter of St. Paul's, you would find a lovely verse (14:8) which says: "For if the trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare to the battle?" The tone of the year and the program for the year are set by the Captain Commanding...in a very positive way, it is to be hoped. For if he give an uncertain sounds, who shall prepare to the battle? And now, in closing...

As I look around at this audience, I am conscious that among you are men who will one day stand here, as I stand here, as your out-going Commander. I pray that you will select them and help them and encourage them so that they will hve been found to have been worthy of you.

My friends...occasionally life has its great moments. Tonight is for me very definitely one of them. My cup runneth over, and I thank you...all...for the honor that you have paid me.

CHAPTER ONE - IN THE BEGINNING

Long before June Day 1981 the Sergeants 1981-1982 began to plan. They met at several homes and restaurants, they listed and approved potential functions throughout the year. Then they discarded those that seemed unreasonable. There were sixteen men in those days, and Senator Del Downing of New Hampshire was elected chairman of the "Potential Sergeants Committee." The group sought out Commander Tonry to review his plans and he graciously invited all to his beautiful farm in the hills of New Hampshire. We had dinner together, we met each others' spouses and most of all, we began to know each other.

Election day came and there were but twelve candidates, 6 for Infantry and 6 for Artillery. Perhaps this was best, but we grieved losing the talents of those who dropped out no matter what the reason. Many campaigned hard, all campaigned fair. Phil DePasquale was elected the first Sergeant of Infantry and Gerry McCarthy was elected 1st Sergeant of Artillery. On the infantry side besides Phil elected were Art Nashawaty, Al Petrulis, Red Downs, Joe Keller and Len Voce. On the Artillery side besides Gerry McCarthy elected were Fred Massaro, Mike McNally, Larry Warner, Bob Danner and Jim Kirley. We all marched proudly as we entered Boston Common to participate and indeed be officially elected during the ceremonial drum head election.

CHAPTER TWO - JUNE DAY 1981

What a surprise to the company and guests when they visited the Sergeants hospitality suite at the Copley Plaza on June Day evening 1981. For the first time the gaming tables were truly professional in appearance with tuxedo clad, friendly croupiers attending them. Moreover, the odds on the black jack tables were fair and "ties" were really ties. The hospitality open bar featured name brands served by two of the most pleasant and lovely bar maids ever. It was wall to wall people until two a.m. with everyone enjoying themselves immensely. The Tigers of 1981-1982 had officially kicked off their activities for the year.

CHAPTER THREE - ANCIENTS NIGHT AT THE POPS

Even before the June Day election it was decided that an "Ancients Night at the Pops" would be an outstanding function and undertaking for the Tigers of 1981-82. So we planned and we met with officials at Symphony Hall and the Boston Pops Orchestra. We learned and agonized over the required commitment of nearly $16,000, which had to be made just after June Day. Could we do it? Could we sell nearly 1,000 seats in a three week period? If we failed it would mean an enormous financial burden for each and every Sergeant. We agreed unanimously to "go for it" and go for it we did.

On the evening of June 24, 1981 for the first time in history two outstanding Boston traditions become one. "Ancients Night at the Pops" was a reality.

The entire house was sold out; all Ancients appeared in formal attire, each lady guest received a flower as they entered Symphony Hall. The program, pre-determined by the Tigers of 1981-82, featured a wide variety of selections including classical, popular and military. Who can forget the tribute to the Armed Forces? Who can forget the blind Japanese violinist's marvelous performance, but most of all who can forget 97 year old retired Navy Commander McNamara leading the Pops in "Stars and Stripes Forever". There were standing ovations for all of this throughout the night. During Intermission, on the stage of Symphony Hall, Sgts. DePasquale and McCarthy together with Captain Tonry presented Conductor Harry Ellis Dickson with mementos of appreciation from the entire company. Again thunderous applause and standing ovation, but it wasn't over yet for in the beautiful Cahners Room and the Symphony Hall Annex the entire company enjoyed a "wine fountain" reception with food and entertainment provided. Members of the Pops Orchestra as well as Harry Ellis Dickson joined in the festivities and met and mingled with the company. This was truly a night to remember and it was duly recorded in the press and on TV for several days following. The Tigers of 1981-1982 did it again!

Just prior to the Pops the Sergeants lost the services of Red Downs for what was to be an extended period. But filling the gap came Charlie Martin, who we all took an instant liking to. Yes, with the approval of Captain Tonry, Charlie became one of us, the thirteenth Sergeant.

CHAPTER FOUR - FALL TOUR OF DUTY HAWAII AND SAN FRANCISCO

For the first time in history two Sergeants, at their own expense, became part of the pre-trip contingency. First Sergeant Phil DePasquale and Sergeant Al Petrulis, using their own funds, joined the pre-trip team and went to Hawaii in Mid-June 1981. While there, they worked hard in planning two spectacular parties in both host cities, Honolulu and San Francisco. The fruits of their labor will be remembered for many years.

THE BON VOYAGE PARTY

Jim Kirly was given the assignment of Planning a "Bon Voyage" party just prior to the company leaving for Hawaii and San Francisco and the 344th Fall Tour of Duty. Jim selected the Copley Plaza as the site for this party and what a party it turned out to be.

First Jim visited the Big Apple (NYC) to actually audition a large Polynesian troup who would provide the entertainment. He met with the people at the Copley to plan an exotic Polynesian menu. He purchased leis and pineapples and he organized a special suite for gaming and open bar after dinner and the show. Over four hundred guests arrived on the night of September 23, 1981. Each was greeted by a Polynesian beauty with a lei. Music filled the air and food and drink were plentiful. A gourmet dinner, not soon to be forgotten, was served and this was followed by a Polynesian spectacular featuring fourteen troup members. There were drum beating and dancers from the South Pacific. There were fire dancers, there were amateur Hula dancers from within the company and there was a spectacular finale with all the lovely ladies dancing Tahitian style. The audience rose to applaud in appreciation. Later most of the guests continued the good time in the "State Suite" of the Copley Plaza where open bar and gaming were offered and enjoyed. All the Sergeants participated in these festivities by assisting at the door, by selling raffle tickets, by working at the gaming tables and by making everyone feel comfortable and enjoy themselves. The Tigers of 1981-82 did it again!

The Sunday before actually leaving for Hawaii at the Commonwealth Armory the Tigers of 1981-82 distributed a multitude of gifts to each company member present. This included many products donated by Gillette Company and arranged by the Sergeants, as well as gift neckties also donated by the Sergeants. All the Tigers participated in distributing their gifts and Joe Keller arranged for the ties. It was here that Joe Keller officially became the "necktie King".

CHAPTER FIVE - THE HONOLULU RECEPTION COMMEMORATING THE 40TH ANNIVERSARY OF PEARL HARBOR

On Friday evening, October 2, 1981 at the Pacific Beach Hotel, one block from The Hyatt Regency Hotel (which was headquarters) the Sergeants held their "Welcome to Hawaii" reception which commemorated the 40th Anniversary of Pearl Harbor. The beautiful Aikane room and the adjoining ballroom were decorated elaborately with ice carvings, flowers and furnishings. The waterfall lent to the tropic atmosphere. The large cenrally-located hors d'oeuvres table contained nearly twenty different delicacies with more than enough to serve the three hundred guests who arrived. There were three open bar stations well stocked with premium brands of liquor. A five piece Hawaiian Orchstra provided background music and the evening started with every guest receiving a lei. This might well go down in Ancients history as one of the most enjoyable Sergeants receptions ever. The Sergeants have received many unsolicited letters, notes, cards and phone calls congratulating them on this outstanding occasion.

Throughout the stay in Hawaii the Sergeants distinguised themselves in their appearance, their presence, and their willingness to cooperate with the Captain and his staff at the many ceremonial functions and parades held.

CHAPTER SIX - WELCOME TO SAN FRANCISCO RECEPTION

One week later, on Friday October 9, 1981 in San Francisco the Tigers did it again. This time at the Sheraton Palace Hotel in the beautifully appointed Regency Room, the Sergeants 1981-82 hosted a cocktail reception which will also be long remembered.
The food served never stopped coming. The selection of over twenty items included many delicacies. Open bar continued throughout the affair and beautiful piano background music was provided. The time flew by and San Francisco welcomed the Tigers.

CHAPTER SEVEN - TOYS FOR TOTS - 1981

The work assignments for all the Sergeants were made just two weeks prior to December 7, 1981. Yes, the day of infamy was chosen to coincide with the Hawaiian trip. Gerry McCarthy brought in an enormous tree and a group of Sergeants headed up by Al Petrulis beautifully decorated it. In came the food, in came the drinks and in came a detachment of Marines and Len Voce who sold practically everyone raffle tickets. Lenny was rapidly gaining the nickname "the raffle ticket King" to go along with the "Necktie King".

We provided every guest with plenty to eat and drink and then in a somber moment we offered a prayer and singing of our National Anthem as we all stood at present arms to the brave heroes who perished at Pearl Harbor.

Then Santa, played by Big Charlie Cushing, returned and we sang some Christmas carols and we raffled off over forty prizes including a dozen turkeys.

The Toys for Tots of 1981 will be remembered and the Marines sent the Tigers a wonderful letter of commendation and thanks.

CHAPTER EIGHT - THE SWEETHEART DINNER DANCE AND LAS VEGAS NIGHT

On February 5, 1982 just before Valentine's Day, Sgts. Gerry McCarthy and Larry Warner planned and conducted a Sweetheart dinner dance and Las Vegas night. They selected Lombardo's in East Boston for it proved in the past to be a great spot to have this type of event. They didn 't let us down.

First scrumptious hors d'oeuvres were served including Shrimp Scampi, Clams Casino and much more. Open bar continued all evening. A five course meal was served including Fettuccini a la Roberto and Roast Sirloin. Wine flowed freely.

The music was grand. Many free gifts were raffled off, including an enormous heart shaped box of chocolates.

Throughout the night the gaming tables were open for the ladies to enjoy themselves. Everyone thoroughly had a grand time and each sweetheart received a flower compliments of the Sergeants. It was stated that this event was one of the nicest parties ever held.

CHAPTER NINE - THE YEAR BOOK

When Bob Danner volunteered to chair the Year Book effort, little did we know the diligen ce of this outstanding Sergeant. He set about his task by first compiling many facts about previous year books. Then he budgeted carefully the financial requirements and set a time table for specific milestones to be accomplished. He design ed outstanding mailing pieces and set the wheels in motion for what has been acclaimed one of the very best year books ever produced. The book contained more photos of Ancients events than ever before. It contained cartoons, photos of Pearl Harbor, photos of old Boston, and most important literally hundreds of paying advertisements. The entire effort was organized and executed in a most exceptional way. It was a big winner for the Sergeants 1981-82 and remarkably the "bad debts" were negligible! There is no doubt that Bob Danner has to be the best Year Book Chairman that has ever served.

CHAPTER TEN - OTHER HAPPENINGS

During the summer of 1981 Boston hosted the NATO fleet and the Sergeants were asked to participate in a reception for Vice Admiral Sir Cameron Rusby of Great Britain at Faneuil Hall. This they did admirably serving as honor guard and hosts.

In December the Sergeants served as guides and hosts at the CENTURY Box closing ceremonies. They placed a multi-paged booklet of photos in the Box to be opened in 100 years.

April 19, 1982 was Patriots Day in Massachusetts. With it went the duty of marching to the Sergeants. We were proud to lead the artillery wing as we marched through Boston and then later through Lexington.

All the Sergeants were invited to the Captain's annual tripe dinner in late April. We took this occasion to present to the adjutant and the Captain a gift of large framed photos of the Sergeants 1981-82. Joe Keller throughout April and May sold ties. In fact if you look carefully you can see the spirit of Joe Keller selling neckties in the armory every night. Yes for six or seven consecutive meetings Joe sold ties and he sold them all. Jim Kirly became "keeper of the TV" since no winner came forward during his Bon Voyage party. He finally had the chance to get rid of it at the Farewell Party. Just before the year ended, Chris and Gerry McCarthy had their first child, a boy, whom they named "Keith". The Sergeants voted to adopt Keith and took appropriate steps to do this. The Captain issued a proclamation and Gerry "the smiling DADDY" passed out cigars.

CHAPTER ELEVEN - A FAREWELL PARTY TO END ALL FAREWELL PARTIES

Up to this point all of the social functions had a bit of class and an air of sophistication about them. Now it seemed for the farewell party a change of scenery and a change in motif were called for. So we moved away from the Copley Plaza to a little known hotel and club in Lynn called the Harbor House and Deja Vu Lounge. We rented the entire facility and provided the company with a party that will long be remembered. There was gambling and pari-mutuel betting and an open bar until 2:00 a.m. There was a six course meal and hors d'oeuvres. There was entertainment throughout the night and the music and lights created a most festive mood. Everyone had a ball. The Sergeants' gifts, as selected and distributed by Art Nashawaty, were distributed and received much praise. All the Sergeants worked hard to see that the members and the many guests enjoyed themselves to the fullest. The farewell party was a tremendous success! The Tigers finished fast just as they started.

CHAPTER TWELVE - IT'S OVER - WE RECOMMEND IT TO ALL BUT PROBABLY WOULDN'T DO IT AGAIN

We had a meeting and dinner together at the Copley Plaza the night before June Day. One could sense the relief that permeated throughout the group. We made some decisions and went home awaiting the final day.

On Monday, June 7, 1982 on the Common we passed on the espontoon to the incoming Sergeants. We left the ranks and rushed to the Copley Plaza to our suite to await the Company as they marched down Boylston Street to join us. With our glasses raised on high, we saluted the troops and for the first time we relaxed! The Tigers of 1981-82 will not soon be forgotten!!
